can leaguers from bow to stern.

"Stop at nothing." Glimore wired his league presidents, "to get players away from the major leaguers. We shall no longer regard contracts. Ours have been disregarded, so sign any player you can, even though he has a ten-year contract under the so-called organized baseball."

At the same time the chief of the independents wired E. E. Gates, attorney for the league, a resident of Indianapolis, and directed him to proceed in the federal courts tomorrow against the Philadelphia National League Baseball diob in an attempt to gain redress in the Killifer Causes Trouble

The action.

Tinker's Band Leaves.

CHICAGO, March S.—Joseph Tinker, manager, and two score ball players to-night departed for Shreveport, La., to start the training season of the Chicago Federal league team. A special train took the party and carried, in addition to the players and others directly connected with the team, President Glimore of the Federal league. Thirty athletes are expected to report at Shreveport, and from them Tinker will select a team.

ream in the Virginia training camp, has caused the trouble.

President Gilmere, who left on the trip to Shreveport with the Chicago team, is highly irritated by Killifer's action, but blames President Baker and Manager Dooin of Philadelphia.

"At the outset we notified the American and National leaguers that we did not think their reserve clause was legal and would not respect it," declared Gilmore. "We asserted, however, that those men held by contracts would not we would regard contracts as agreements too honorable to be disrupted. And we were content to abide by this policy until organized baseball showed us that it would not have the same high regard of our contracts. Now we will take the initiative. The old leagues will soon find out how dangerous we are and how easily their supposed powerful defences can be shattered."

Art Shafer Quits.

SAN JOSE, Cal., March 8.—Art Shafer is not going back to the New York Giants. He announced today that he had quit professional baseball forever and was going to engage in business with his father in Los Angeles.

"No more baseball for me," said the temperamental one. "I am not going to the Giants, the Federals or anybody class. I have quit baseball once and for all, I will live in Los Angeles and engage in business with my father."

Y. M. C. A. Gives Medals for Winners

THREE medals, one each of gold, silver and bronze, will be given by officials of the Y. M. C. A, to contestants who establish the greatest number of records in the Y. M. C. A. indoor games and swimming races. The tournament, which began in October, will close in April.

From the standpoint of interest in the games the tournament has been a success from the beginning, and it is probable it will be continued from year to year. There are eighteen events, and the entry list has been large.

Gilbert Gallant of Boston and Danny O'Brien of Seattle, the two clever lightweights who are scheduled to go over the twenty-round route in Murray next Wednesday night for the benefit of the Murray baseball club, are almost through the hard grind of training and will start to taper off. Although they will work twice a day for the next couple of days their work will be much easier than it has been, as they are both down to the required weight of 125 and will not take any chances of injury to their hands between now and the time of the bout. A force of men will be set at work in Trocadero hall, Murray, tomorrow morning putting in the platform and the elevated seats.

JACK TINGEY GETS INTEREST IN TROPHY

Four Guns With Two Legs on Cup Unable to Get Necessary Third.

Shooting like a champion, Jack Tingey yesterday stepped out to the firing ine at the Sait Lake Gun club's grounds and before a throng of more than 200 trap shooters and spectators who had gathered to witness the final shoot for the beautiful Fommery cup, for which the club members have been contesting for the past two months, literally ran way from the field by making a score of lifty-four and defeating bandily the ers in the cup race

It was expected that either W. S. Coung, Gail Moffat, Harold Lamb or W. Walker would win the cup for the hird and last time at yesterday's shoot,

E. Walker would win the cup for the third and last time at yesterday's shoot, and by the time the programme began the excitement among the supporters of each of them ran high. That the contestants feit the strain of the situation was apparent early in the shoot, as one after another bogan dropping targets. Young held on grimly and in the first two events of fifteen birds missed only one. In the third event he drew several hard targets and he also was out of the running.

C. H. Bellly, Jr., and E. E. Finch were following Tingey closely and tled for second place, the former making the beautiful score of forty-nine out of fifty without a bandicap. Joe Murphy. Ed Smith, E. L. Ecklund and Ted Seehulser came down from Cache valley to familiarize themselves with the local grounds preparatory to taking part in the big Utah-Idaho tournament to be held here in May, and held their own with the beat shots of the local club.

In the championship events W. F. Gallagher maintained his lead in class A by adding two points to his score and bringing it up to ten. Tingey added four points to his championship score and now leads class B with a total of ten points. In class C Sam Williams garnered two points and tied with finite points.

unexpected feat cheered the plucky grappler to the echo.

Nelson went on last Friday at the Empress with the understanding that he was to receive $25 for each time he threw the bear. He threw him once and received the money, and after thinking the matter over on Saturday, he decided that he could duplicate the feat in two trials if Manager Cook of the Empress would hold the bear over and give him the opportunity. Nelson issued his challenge, agreeing to post a bet of $100 that he could turn the trick.

Manager Cook of the Empress was called by phone and advised of Nelsou's challenge, and after a hurried conference with Trainer Stevens, it was decided to hold the bear over for Sunday. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, and to accept Nelson's challenge for Tuesday night.

Manager Cook has drawn the line at betting Nelson $100 on the outcome of the matches, however.

"While I have no personal objection to or scruples against betting. I do not feel at liberty to make the theater which I represent a party to an out and out betting proposition," occlares Mr. Cook. "So I have a counter proposition to make which Nelson has already accepted. It is this—Nelson need risk not a cent of his own money and he need not post a penny, but if he throws "Big Jim" in either one of his two matches Tuesday night. I will very gladly present him, on behalf of the Empress theater, with a crisp, new $100 hill.

"I have arranged to hold "Big Jim" on my programme for the first half of this week, and the matches will be put on after the first and second shows Tuesday night. I am not anxious to lose any $100 hills, but if Nelson can duplicate his feat of last Friday night. I'll be a mighty good loser. Mr. Stevens, the bear's owner, has agreed to give Nelson at least one preliminary workout with the bear before Tuesday night, so that Nelson will have every chance in the world."

Nelson, when seen Sunday at five head-quarters, declared that while he would have been perfectly willing to put up $100 that he can throw "Big Jim," he accepts Manager Cook's counter proposi-tion and will do his best Tuesday night, "I know that I can throw that hear again," is Nelson's declaration.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 8.—Johnny Albanese, a former featherweight boxer, was shot and killed today by a stranger, who escaped after the shooting. According to William Caris, who was held by the police as a witness, the stranger demanded money from Albanese and an argument ensued, during which the shooting occurred. Albanese's last contest was with Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, here October 12, 1912. Albanese was 22 years old.
